

Call to Participate

Young Namibian Women Digital Programme

Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH in collaboration with UNAM is looking for 20 Young Namibian Women, to take part in a Free Young Namibian Women Digital Programme, that will raise awareness about potential career paths that women can pursue in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) related fields,

The programme will also offer training on Entrepreneurship, and selected Information and Communication Technology topics, such as Web Development, Programming, Microsoft etc.

TIME FRAME:

- 29 November – 17 December 2021
- 10 – 17 January 2022

Sessions will be conducted online.

ELIGIBILITY:

The applicants must:

- Have a Grade 12 certificate, but must not have graduated from a tertiary institution
- Be between 18 – 30 years of age
- Have a good command of English, as well as some basic knowledge of STEM
- Be willing to train other women in their communities

HOW TO APPLY:

The application must include a CV, a Grade 12 certificate, and a one page motivation letter on why you should be selected.

NB: Please note that you need to have internet access to participate in the programme.

DUE DATE FOR APPLICATION:

22 November 2021, at 12:00 pm.

All applications should be emailed to:

Dr Victoria Hasheela-Mufeti, vhasheela@unam.na

Ms Maria Ntinda, mntinda@unam.na